Week 6 Reflection

DATE

2/15/20

This week I'm trying out a handwritten format for the reflection in an effort to diversify the types of reflections done as suggested. This week was a bit rough for me. I had a pretty STEM-difficult midterm on Wednesday and it kind of took up 99% of my mental energy. I ended up focusing on that over any CT stuff besides the CT 1 lecture the same day. I feel a bit behind to be honest, a bit hurried, but I feel like as long as I keep up the deadlines I should be okay. Overall I feel more hopeful about next week, but it's been a lot for me lately. I have started brainstorming the next project thingy...
